LONGSTREET CAN STILL WIN.

NOT YET TO BE LAID UPON THE SHELF.

HD TURNS THE TABLES ON JUDGE MORROW AT

GRAVESEND. The Board of Control has done much good on the turf. It cannot afford to let the bookmakers make a laughing stock of it. The Board adopted a positive rule last year, requiring bookmakers to lay odds against stables when owners start more than one horse Out of eighty-seven bookmakers in the ring at Graves end yesterday not more than half a dozen offered any odds against Michael F. Dwyer's stable in the St. James Hotel Stakes. All but the half-dozen put up figures against the individual entries only. The enforces its rules. This rule about betting is a just and popular one. It is general in the West. The racegoing public wants it and needs it. It is necessary for the protection of the racing masses. Board must sink into derision and contempt unless it sary for the protection of the racing masses. Few things on the turf offer so strong temptations to decelt, trickery and fraud as the system of bottling against individual entries and not against stables

Three horses ran in the St. James Hotel Stake at a mile and a quarter, Judge Morrow, Longstreet and Raceland. Michael F. Dwyer declared to win with Longstreet, who was rid ien by Taral, while McLaughlin had the mount on Raceland. Judge Morrow's victory in the Brooklyn Handicap made him the popular favorite, but when Mr. Dwyer sent into the ring a handsome commission on Longstreet the bookmakers offered 11 to 10 and even 0 to 5 against Judge Morrow. although at the outset they had given only 4 to 5. But even after Mr. Dwyer's commission was p it was always easy to get good beiting against Long street. The bookmakers and most of the spectators failed to take sufficient account of the fact that Judge Morrow and Longsreet were to run at 126 pounds each, while in the Erooklyn Handleap Judge Morrow carried only 116 pounds to Longstreet's 125. An advance of ten pounds often makes a great difference

McLaughlin went off and set the pace with Race land, while Taral carefully humored Longstreet, lettin him move along at his own pace behind Judge Mor-When the first three-quarters of a mile had run, Judge Morrow gained rapidly on Raceland. and the old gelding was soon beaten and out of the Tarni called gently on Longstreet when Raceland retired, and an the lower turn, three furlongs from the end, Longstreet got on almost ever terms with Judge Morrow. The partisans of Long street began to shout, for they felt sure that Taral would outride little "Major" Covingon at the finish. Covington allowed the Judge to run very widely in entering the homestretch, carrying Longstreet far out. Taral rode vigorously all the way up the homestretch, but bore himself as if he felt confident of victory. Longstreet won with something in hand, Judge Morrow second, and Raceland far behind. The time was good for such a track-2:12.

It was a muddy, sticky, clinging track after the heavy rains. So, in spite of all denials, Longstreet muddy track. But every one his fine trial in mud and rain at Jerome Park summer before he defeated Tenny at Morris tanew that at certein itmes, at least, he could show plenty of speed in mud. It seems an obvious Inference from the race yesterday that the two racin the Brooklyn and Brookdale Handicaps were high ly beneficial to Longstreet. Evidently his hurries preparation for the Brooklyn had not made him cherry ripe," as the racing phrase goes. Taral's ms to suit the horse exactly. Taral is cool and calm, yet masterful, that the son of Longfellow did well under him.

Kingston ran as if short of work in the first race He was second choice in the betting, since It was the general opinion that he was not yet ready Hence Leonawell was the favorite Kingston got up to Leonawell in the homestretch, but could not maintain his speed, because of lack of con-dition, and Leonawell won under the whip in the slow time of 1:46 3-4.

Many of W. C. Daly's horses run as if they only half trained. He lost a valuable trainer when Theeler left him. Lepanto led the betting on the second race and led in the run until he collapsed completely in the homestretch, and failed to get a place. Most of the people present strangely over looked Bellevue's form last year and this spring. He is a horse of higher blass then Lepanto's, and he wo the race in a common canter. George W. was second,

Osstaway third and Lepanto last.

John A. Morris was at the track and before the third race sold his two-year-old colt Merriment for $3,000 to a Guttenburg man named Glibbons. colt had been entered in the race in the name Morrises, of course he was permitted to run, and the supporters of winter racing can get no consolution out of that fact. Most turimen thought that Mr. Morrisold the colt too cheaply, as in these days any two year-old colt capable of winning races can gain many thousands of dollars for his owner. Merriment showe speed het week in the mud and can away from his Yesterday he was a steadfast favorite, but Morello, who had won two races at Washington, was a strong second choice, nithough It was reported that Morello had not received sufficient work since he the National Capital. Morello sent Merriment to the whip at the finish, but the favorite sprang so smartly from the stroke as to win easily. In the fifth race betting men fell into an error like that which they committed in the second race with Bellevue and Lepanto. Although Philip J. Dwyer's celt Temple had exhibited some form last year, he was neglected, and that offensively named eventure Tom Tough was backet as if his success were a cer tainty. Tom Tough ran miserably, and came in a bad third. He is a fit stable companion to Cerberus. It is understood that Cerberus received his name be cause he is such an infernal dog. Temple won th race in a gallop, Julio second. Airshaft started, bu had no speed. Michael F. Dwyer's pair of Ventilate colts. Airplant and Airshaft, won states fast year. Up to this date neither has betrayed even low selling

Cp to this date neither has betrayed even low selling plate form.

The nuclers of the favorite, Walcott, were not pleased with Littlefield's riding in the last race. Last wook this jockey made a runaway race with Wabott, leading all the way and whinling by many lengths. The supporters of the coff expected to see him ridden in the same way yesterday, as he azum had light in the same way yesterday, as he azum had light weight up, only 110 pounds. Lut although Littlefield got off well, he made no effort to take the leaf, thence most of the field passed him, and Walcott was cut off and interfered with at every turn, and pocketed on the stretches. He was again pocketed at the last furious post, and Littlefield's flinkly was weak and sprallers. Walcott can repeat last wook's form easily chough, and it Taral had been on his back yesternay, or any during a dashing, plucky rider, it is hard to see how he could have lost. Now or Never, ridden by Bergen, won with a big broad marfin. St. James, at long out-leadeds, was second, and W. C. Buly's Count was third. This was a seiling race, and all sorts of queer thing. It is nearly to the course the series to keep on good terms with the Boart of Control, he course theat time to be less backward with Eallyhoo. The imported filly Fanvette, daughter of Chopette, dany of Carstophine, is so lame that she can hardly stand. Fanvette is in the all scarler stable. The list of ameneness, break down and mishings of all sorts to heres is unusually extensive this suring.

THE PROGRAMME TO-DAY.

One of the richest cards of the meeting is presented by the Brooklyn Jockey Club to-day. The race for the Clover Stakes will bring to the post a promising bevy of maiden two-year old fillies, some of which have been tried very high. Rac-goers may at lest have a glimpse of the flying Minnehaha. The Brooklyn Derby, at a mile and a quarter, will be contested by the best three-year-olds in training, and they appear to be an evenly matched lot. The meeting between Charade evenly matched for the meeting between tharade and Mars is sure to be an interesting incident of the day. Large fields will probably start in all the races, as the weather has finally decided to settle down and give the track a chance. The going to-day will and give the track a chance. Five going to-day will be good. These are the entries in full: PIRST RACE—A selling sweepstakes of $20 each, for two year-olds; with $1,000 added, of which $200 to second and $100 to third. Winners to carry 7 lb extra. The

THE RUNNYMEDE YEARLINGS COLD. HIGH PRICES REALIZED-HANOVER'S BROTHER BRINGS $6,000.

The sale of yearlings at Tattersall's last night wa a great success and good prices were realized. The Runnymede lot brought a total of $55,050, an average of $1,835 each. The sale was delayed thirty minute and at times the bidding dragged so that it took all of Mr. Easton's eloquence to make the buyers realize that they were about to lose a Futurity winner. Dwyer secured the brother of Hanover for $3,000 The Rancocas Stud secured a brother of the erratic Carroll for $5,100. W. Barrick purchased a sister of Sallie McClelland for $5,100. There were at least 150 ladies present.

GOSSIP ABOUT THE RELAY RACE. A FEW OF THE MANY DIFFICULTIES MET AND OVERCOME BY THE RIDERS.

Wheelmen were busy yesterday swapping stories shout the finish of the relay race from Chicago to New York. First on the list of heroes in the wheeling world was H. L. Quick, the Yonkers rider who covered the last thirty miles from Tarrytown to the City Hall and came through at a ten-mile an hour guit, leaving the two other riders who started with him mournin y the roadside over the wrecks of their machines Though Quick holds the world's championship record at cance paddling, he had never been in a bicycle road race before, which makes his performance of Sunday all the more praiseworthy. A local routrace distinction waited at Fifty-ninth-st. to set the pace for the incoming courier, but although he was fresh and Quick had left twenty-five miles of mud churning behind him the latter set too fast a pure for the pacemaker himself, who had to trait along

One of the most placky performances of the whole race was that of Harry Eveland, who started out alone to ride from Feekshill to Turrytown in the dark and the rain over a road he had never ridden. The man who had been assigned to ride with him backed out. He had neither brake nor lantern, and coasting strange ills of uncertain length and steepness, in storm and darkness, is not at all a pleasant Job. As Eveland approached Sing Sing his chapter of accidents reached its climax. First he ran into a girl and took a header that shook him up badly. Then as he was descending hill into sing sing a stray efficen get in the way The result was a general smashup, Eveland beit tehed into a stone wall. He was just able to ride when put on his machine again, but luckly was re-lieved there by George Smith and L. D. Munger, who had come up from Tarrytown to meet him. These men walked most of the way from sing sing to Tarrytown, having seen in Eveland's mt-haps an example of

There were large crowds of pretty girls and their schoolboy friends, all decked out with banners and ribbons of their fav tite school's color. The cheering was frequent and enthusiastic. The records made in imost all of the compatitions were god, those in the picycle race, mile walk and 100 yard dash, being respecially so. T. L. Pogart, of Perkeley School, broke the old interscholastic recard of 7 minutes, 503-5 seconds, for the mile walk, by covering the distance in almost six seconds less time. In the first beat of the 100-gord darb, J. B. Smult, of Harvard School, equalled the interscholastic record of 10.3.5 seconds, while J. A. START OF A PIGEON FLYING CONTEST. THE BIRDS LIBERATED FROM MADISON SQUARE GARDEN TOWER.

The pigeon flying contest for the Royal Blue Line's prize and the Stockkeeper's Cup began at the Madison Square Garden yesterday morning. About seventy five pigeons from the lofts of the Rhode Island Federa tion and of other owners were released from Diana's tower during the forestoon by J. V. Gottschalk, The start would have been made Sunday had the weather not been inelement.

The first start was made at 9:27 o'clock by Miss

Luin, Barbara and the Maid, all of which are owned by Henry Goodby. The birds were bound for Providence, R. I. The next start for Providence was made at 9:42 o'clock by fifty birds from seven lofts of the Rhode Island Federation. The two birds Darkey and Stump, of Henry Goodby's lofts, took their leave of the tower at 9:47 o'clock and started in the direction of Providence like two veteran couriers. The Henry G. Thurston nine, led by A. M. Dickinson and Miss Hazel, began their journey to Providence at 11 o'clock. The Stafford birds started at 11:04 o'clock for Fall River and a number of birds belonging to Frederick Bowers, of Fall River, were released at 11:27 o.clock to fly to the lofts of their owner.

Hunt, of the Harvard Athletic Club, have signed in affidavit, as has Evins himself, to the effect that he is a bona-fide amateur.

LIPSCHUTZ WINS THE MATCH.

HE IS NOW CHAMPION OF AMERICA.

SHOWALTER SCORED ONLY ONE GAME-THE LAST DAY'S PLAY. The chess match between Lipschutz and Showalter ended yesterday with the fifteenth game, which was won by the former, who thereby obtains the cham-plonship of America and wins the stakes of $1,500 with the final excellent score of 7 to 1 and 7 drawn. The progress of the play in the last game showed un mistakably that Showalter had broken down under the stress of the uphili battle which he had to fight. The opening yesterday was a Ruy Lopez of a dif ferent form from the previous ones in this contest Lipschutz defending by 3 . variation ensued in which Black adopted the most approved methods and came out of the developmen with two Bishops against Knight and Bishop. With a majority of Pawns on the Queen's side, Show alter made a vigorous enslaught on the King's wing at the cost of a Pawn on the eighteenth move, and his opponent preserved the material gained up to the twenty-minth move, when White, probably prematurely under pressure of time limit, recovered the Pawn, which exposed him to a perplexing attack.

Showalter's next move was practically fatal. He retreated his King to R 3 instead of to Knight's square, and Lipschutz scaled his decisive reply. was a fine sacrifice of the exchange which must have gained a piece at least and after the resumption of play only one move was made when showalter resigned.

The production of Bessemer steel lugots in 1891 was 494,428 net tons less than in 1890, a decrease of nearly 12 per cent. This shrinkage in the production of Ressemer steel ingots is especially noteworthy because it was accompanied by considerable increase in 1801 in the production of open-hearth steel, the production of this kind of steet in that year being 040,32 net tons, against 574,820 tons in 1800, an increase of nearly 13 per cent. That this branch of our steel adustry should make such sait factory progress while our Bessemer steel industry should take a step tack ward is a result which will be received with some sur prise. The production of Bessemer steel ralls in 1891 was 043,759 net tons less than in 1890, a de crease of over 30 per cent; but our production of all rolled iron and steel other than rails was only 00,235 tons less in 1891 than in 1890.
